Scott and Julie,

I am writing to bring to your immediate attention a recent development concerning the sexual harassment training purportedly conducted by ADP, Inc., for your clients. As you are aware, the Defendants produced certificates of completion issued by ADP for the sexual harassment training during discovery, and also referenced the training in their verified interrogatory responses.

However, today we received the attached letter from ADP, Inc., in response to our subpoena, which states that (1) Academir Charter Schools, Inc. has never purchased the product containing the sexual harassment course listed on the certificates, and (2) Although Superior Charter School Services, Inc. purchased the product, ADP has no records of the training ever being accessed or utilized.

Given the seriousness of this new evidence, which further supports the claims of fabrication and falsification outlined in our recently filed Motion for Default Judgment and for Sanctions, we require an explanation from your clients regarding this matter.

Please provide a detailed explanation for this discrepancy by no later than tomorrow, July 11th, at 11:00 AM. If we do not receive a satisfactory response by this time, we will consider this further evidence of Defendants' misconduct and will inform the Court accordingly.

Thank you for your prompt attention to this matter.

Kyle T. MacDonald, Esq.
